FEATURED SIRE
BRINKS MAC TITAN #4

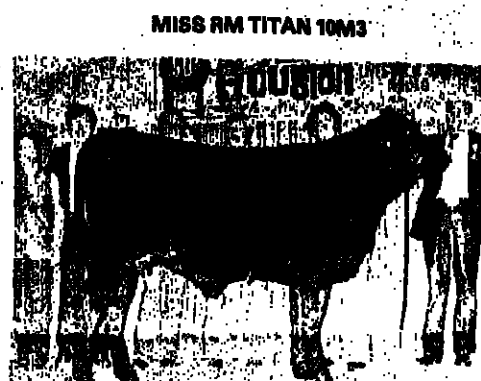

Titan, the 1978 International Grand Champion Bull, is the featured sire of our First Production Sale. We will sell our 1/8 interest in Titan along with 1200 straws of semen.

The faith that Brangus breeders and commercial cowmen have placed in Titan was demonstrated once again at the January 1982 Brinks Brangus Sale which grossed over 1 1/2 million dollars — the first bull sale in the United States cattle history to gross over 1 million dollars. Titan and 27 of his sons sold for $778,860 to average $27,732. In this historic event the high selling lot and 7 of the 10 highest selling Brangus bulls were Titan sons.

Titan is, without question, the greatest bull in the Brangus breed today. The calves selling by him in our sale are an impressive group, and carry tremendous potential.

FEATURED SIRE
BRINKS MAC TITAN 84

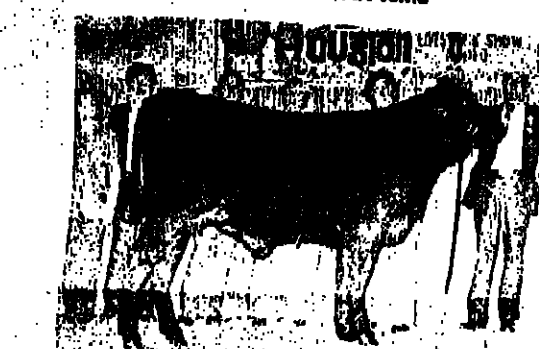

Titan, the 1978 International Grand Champion Bull, is the featured sire of our First Production Sale. We will sell our 1/8 interest in Titan along with 1200 straws of semen.

The faith that Brangus breeders and commercial cowmen have placed in Titan was demonstrated once again at the January 1982 Brinks Brangus Sale which grossed over 1 1/2 million dollars — the first bull sale in the United States cattle history to gross over 1 million dollars. Titan and 27 of his sons sold for $775,650 to average $27,762. In this historic event the high selling lot and 7 of the 10 highest selling Brangus bulls were Titan sons.

Titan is, without question, the greatest bull in the Brangus breed today. The calves sired by him in our sale are an impressive group, and carry tremendous potential.

"Most impressive" were the words that Sam Castator, spokesman for a group of 46 members of the Oklahoma County, Oklahoma Cattlemen's Association, used to describe the Red Brangus cattle they saw at Oakway Farms near Cameron, Texas.

"Most of us had never seen Red Brangus before," said Castator, "and we were amazed that a busload of strangers could get right out of the bus and walk among them — very gentle!"

The Oakway Farms tour was the last stop on a weeklong tour of prominent Texas registered breeders of all breeds.

They all agreed that Extra was an appropriate name for Oakway's senior herd sire; "He's the biggest bull we saw in the entire state." Many of the group also commented favorably on the apparent milking ability of Red Brangus and the uniformity of their udders.

Keith and Sandra Acheson of Acheson & Acheson Cattle Co. at Bertram, Texas, were volume buyers at the East Texas Red Brangus Memorial Classic sale May 29.

This tour is an annual event for this enthusiastic group of commercial cattlemen. We expect they'll be including Red Brangus from here on out and using more of the "Big Red Mules" north of the Red River.

West Texas Red Brangus Meeting At Don Johnsons

Brownwood, Texas - The Don Johnson Ranch at Brownwood was host to a meeting of the West Texas Red Brangus Organization on May 1 in which members were instructed in measurement of frame scores for heifers and bulls, and measurement of scrotal size in bulls. Johnson is vice president of the WTRBO.

Dr. David Conrad of Sherman also passed out information pointing out the value of using frame scores and scrotal measurements.

The new brucellosis regulations were discussed with the change in classifications. Counties that were originally Class A are now Class B and counties formerly Class B are now Class C.

Pictured at the East Texas Red Brangus Organization's Memorial Day Classic sale are, front row, from left: Carlitos, Carlos X. and Folto Guerra. Standing from left are: R. A. Guerra, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Flato of Corpus Christi; and A. R. (Felo) Guerra. The Guerras are principals in Guerra Bros. at Linn, Texas.

AVOID CHANGING WHEEL LEATHERS FOR MANY YEARS
 Perma-cups are molded urethane more wear resistant than nylon. Perma-cups will outlast leathers 10 to 1. Their tapered design allows only 1/8" wear, instead of 5/8" of a leather. Much less friction for easier pumping extends cylinder life. Perma-cups must be used in a good or new cylinder, as they do not seal. Install Urethane Perma-cups, Urethane Check-balls, and Urethane Pump Rod-guides, and don't put that well for many years. Thousands are in wells that have not been retiered in 9 years! All are available in standard cylinder and pump sizes. Write standard cylinder and pump sizes. Write day order to be received. This is our 32nd year serving ranchers.

about as rough and tumble as well the Democratic primary between Brown and Hightower. Thornberry will likely draw strong backing from farmers and ranchers and agribusiness, a large percentage of whom are alarmed by Hightower's long record as an extremely liberal politician who served for years with former Senator Ralph Yarborough and ran the presidential bid of Oklahoma Sen. Fred Harris in 1976.

Reputations 'Field' For Hightower In Ag Commissioner Race

 he was willing to withdraw if a candidate with more name recognition could be found. There had been a statewide search for a strong opponent for Hightower.
 Hightower's easy victory over incumbent Reagan Brown intensified the search for a strong candidate by the Republicans since Hightower's anti-establishment positions attacking the corporate food distribution system and agribusiness conglomerates had disturbed many and his announced intentions to stress consumerism issues aroused fears among many livestock and agricultural people and organizations.

It has been reported that Hightower has contacted a number of former employees of the department and offered them jobs in his administration, and a number of these former agriculture department employees had either been dismissed or driven out of Brown set up his staff.

Thornberry told newsmen at a press briefing "I have worked for almost 25 years in agriculture in the state of Texas. I am an agricultural scientist, an educator, a practicing food producer and, like most of you, a consumer."

The switch in candidates by the Republicans appears likely to make the race for the commissioners position during the same time, the acres planted in Texas jumped from 3.5 to 7.3 million while the harvested acres leaped from 1.8 to 6.6 million. This dynamic change in wheat production upped the producers' value of the crop and their spending power in taxes, goods, services and production inputs from $70 million to over $700 million. Even though during the same period, the farm price of wheat increased 172%, the big disappointment to farmers throughout the State is that demand has not been strong enough to overcome the increased production costs and strengthen farm prices to a level that is produced outside that former traditional area.

Wheat use in the United States during the past ten years, and in the foreseeable future, has been static in action and virtually unchanging. All the dynamics in wheat production — putting idle acres back into production, absorbing increased yields from research and technical advances, price increase from $1.34 per bushel since 1971 — has been made possible by increased exports. U. S. wheat exports go not only to big countries like Japan, China, the Soviet Union and Mexico, but to over 90 countries throughout the world. Exports reduce carryover stocks and help strengthen farm prices.

TEXAS WHEAT PRODUCERS Launch Self-Help Promotion Program

 Chaloupka, Dalhart, Texas Farm Bureau; Mike Mosier, Austin, Texas Farmers Union; Wiley Tabor, Quanah, Texas Wheat Producers Association; and W. H. (Dad) Ansel, Rosenberg, Texas Grain and Feed Association. The new "Texas Wheat Promotion Plan" will be administered by the farmer-elected Texas Wheat Producers Board, through its professional and technical staff headquartered in Amarillo, according to W. R. Moore, Jr., Munday, TWPB Chairman.

The dynamic change in wheat production and marketing within the State make such a bold self-help effort mandatory if any semblance of profit is to be maintainable. The Ag-leaders say. They point to the fact that just ten years ago, in 1971, Texas ranked sixteenth among the states in production with only 81 million bushels. In 1981 it had leaped to third place nationally with 188 million bushels.

Oklahoma Breeder, Consignment Sales Permit Tied To Brucellosis

Individuals who buy and sell cattle on a short-term basis or conduct special breeders' or consignment sales in Oklahoma must obtain a permit from the Oklahoma Department of Agriculture before the sale. This also applies to groups conducting this sort of business, says Dr. Robert L. Martin, state veterinarian.

The new livestock dealers' licensing act is designed to help in traceback of brucellosis reactors.

Oklahoma's compulsory calfhood vaccination program is still scheduled to go into effect July 1. It will require that all heifers born after Jan. 1, 1982, be calving vaccinated before or upon change of ownership, or be allowed to move only to a quarantine feedlot or slaughter. This class of heifers brought passengers and staggered wooden floors to prevent riders slips & falls.

This wonderful machine can tote 200 400-pound steers in its four apartments and supposedly keep 'em happy for six days at a time. Enough time to make a long cross-country haul and ignore the rules which force livestock haulers to stop every 28 hours for food and rest for livestock.

This newest USDA boondoggle has no announced price tag, but it has to be a purty good one and this whole idea, if pursued to its bitter end as has been the case with those Amtrak trains, could save grace is the fact that railroads are cheaper by the mile than trucks, and if time is no consideration they are money savers. However, they are the first to tell you that dead weight, nonperishable freight, is what they are most interested in. No live passengers and no perishables if they can get out of it.

Faced with the history of rail hauling of livestock, it is curious that this idea ever got past the bull session stage. Railroads got out of the livestock hauling business years ago. It was more trouble than it was worth and on most occasions unprofitable because of damage claims. As a matter of fact in the hey-days of rail livestock traffic, frequently the shipper repaired to the freight claim office as soon as the stock was loaded to file a claim, he knew would be inevitable.

Frequently switch engine engineers, known affectionately as hog heads, created some dandy damage claims as they stampeded cattle by blasting whistles as they neared corrals filled with range cattle. One of the noble experiments in these days was what was called the L.C.L. trains. This was for less than carlot consignments and was aimed at giving small stockmen and farmers access to the bigger livestock
